Transportation: Increasingly important for people to live their lives and to access basic services and needs. Infrastructure is lagging behind and it's though (i.e. costly to build)		2
involvement, eligibility/access/education/awareness			1
Trust starts with me; it builds respect, relationships, and hope				1
Fairer taxation/revenue structure must be enacted and directed towards human services and education.					5
Community and Social norm change to where all adults and organizations support all aspects of child success and wellbeing (birth-6yrs)						1
Mental Health/ Substance abuse							8
Affordable, Quality, Accessible Childcare								2
There has been a rising awareness of interconnectedness of transportation, infrastructure, & housing contributing to increased need for social services in our community. And our regressive tax structure needs to change.									2

Increased awareness, engagement, and action.
What we learned: This lesson cannot be viewed as prioritizing issues/ actions, but recognizing it as a Mosaic that needs to be viewed and addressed simultaneously.
As a unified community, listen to and respond to the whole person in all aspects of their life: mental, physical, and economical needs.
Community engagement and communication is underfunded, underemphasized, and lagging in technology
Humanizing and decriminalizing poverty: decriminalizing mental health, businesses being inclusive
Government should do more and work with NPOs/CBOs and community
We need real-time and shaved data on how the increase in medical insurance is impacting access to mental health, substance abuse, and physical health services as well as how it is impacting families.
seeing people in need as our neighbors: Education, awareness, buy-in
